IPA Students Tour PVT Recycling Facility

PVT was pleased to welcome a group of about 50 students from Kapolei's Island Pacific Academy who toured the facility on February 11.

In most cases, a tour of PVT is an eye-opener, and this visit was no exception. PVT is Hawai'i's largest recycler by volume and also operates O'ahu's only construction and demolition landfill, a vital addition to the state's construction industry and economy.

After the tour, the group received PVT t-shirts, which they switched into quickly after their clothes were soaked during a sudden downpour.

Wai'anae Sunset on the Beach Returns March 14-15

This year's Wai'anae Sunset on the Beach at Maili Beach Park promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Celebrating the Legacy of Prince Kuhio and the 100th Anniversary of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, the event will feature two full days of entertainment, movies starting at dusk on both nights, and a fireworks show on Saturday night. PVT is a sponsor of the event.

Hours are noon to 10 p.m. on both days.

Performers include Maki Boy & Friends, Halau Hula O Kekaikuihala, Nānākuli Performing Arts Center, Ekolu Makou, Kamaehu, Jeff Rasmussen, Ae Hiki No, Simplicity, the Royal Hawaiian Band, and others.

Come hungry because there will be plenty of food booths as well as a marketplace and a keiki village.

Wai'anae Sunset on the Beach brings two days of fun to the Wai'anae Coast.

New Tire Wash Cleaning up at PVT

Trucks leaving the PVT facility now pass through a new tire wash system that removes mud and dirt from their wheels before they return to the road after leaving PVT. The water used in the wash is captured and recycled after each use.

The tire wash joins two high-powered water cannons that shoot a blanket of mist over an area the size of three football fields during landfill operations. A paved road system, roaming water trucks, and extensive landscaping are also helping to keep things clean.

Support for Wai'anae Boxing Club

A number of boxers from the Wai'anae Coast have achieved greatness at the professional level. For some, the Wai'anae Boxing Club is where their stories began. The Club was established 53 years ago by Fred "Papa Fred" Pereira.

In 2019, Papa Fred was inducted into the Golden Gloves of America Coaches Hall of Fame. He continues to serve as the head coach of the Golden Gloves Hawaii team, which made history at the 2019 National Tournament of Champions as Hawai'i boxers earned three gold and one silver medal.

With airfare and hotel costs always rising, the club can use support from the community. PVT Land was happy to make a contribution. If you'd like to do the same, watch for the club's car washes and other fundraising activities.
