Cleaning up on Lualualei Naval Road

In October, Lualualei Naval Road received a serious clean-up thanks to the organizing efforts of Andria Tupola, who recently was elected our new City Councilmember representing the Wai'anae Coast.

PVT provided a front-end loader and operator to do some of the heavy lifting, and there was plenty to lift. Cars in various states of abandonment, tires, furniture, and trash in all shapes and sizes were all carted away. Members of the community also joined in to help separate the trash by category for pick-up.

Heavy Lifting — PVT provided a front loader and operator to lift trash from the street, including a number of car bodies and heavy furniture.

Trash Galore — Lualualei Road had become a Mecca for illegal dumpers prior to the clean-up.

Community Effort — Thanks to all the members of the community who participated in the clean-up on October 24.

Do your Christmas shopping at MadeInWaianae.com

We're living through a time when working together and supporting each other is more important than ever. Recently, PVT joined with others to support the Made in Wai'anae Christmas Festival, which is being held virtually this year.

The madeinwaianae.com website will feature products from 40 vendors during the Christmas season. All of the vendors are small businesses that are struggling to survive as the pandemic continues to alter the way we live our lives.

This holiday season consider shopping locally, without leaving your home, by visiting madeinwaianae.com. You'll not only find some great products, but also help small businesses to thrive on the Wai'anae Coast.

Buy Local — Amazon makes enough money. Shop local this holiday season.

There's no Christmas parade, but we do have memories

This year's Wai'anae Christmas Parade has been canceled. Fortunately, we still have our memories — and photos — of parades from past years that we hope will help rekindle your Christmas spirit. Here's hoping that we're back on the parade route in 2021.

Horns of Plenty — The Nānākuli Golden Hawks Marching Band always brings some brass to the parade.

Giddyup — It wouldn't be a parade without horses and riders.
