NHIS robotics team strikes again

The accolades keep coming for the Nānākuli High and Intermediate School robotics team.

First, they relied on expert driving and a proprietary, autonomous code to capture first place in the Hawai‘i State Robotics Championships in the intermediate school division. This qualified them to compete in the VEX World Robotics Championship, which was held in May. There they placed 8th out of 45 teams in their division.

What’s more, they did it all during a pandemic.

This year, VEX was held virtually and featured more than 140 teams competing from the U.S., China, Canada, Australia, and Germany.

For PVT scholars from Wai‘anae and Kamaile, it’s a family affair

PVT college scholarship recipients from Wai‘anae High School and Kamaile Academy brought their families along on June 10 when they visited PVT to formally receive their scholarship awards.

Before the pandemic, scholarships were given out as part of a larger event in the cafeteria of Wai‘anae High School, or in the courtyard at Kamaile Academy during morning assembly. This smaller, more intimate gathering gave everyone a chance to talk and get to know each other a little better.

Family Matters — Most of our PVT scholarship recipients don’t go it alone. They’ve got family and friends supporting them all the way.

Say hello to the PVT scholars from Nānākuli High School

In the center of the Nānākuli High School campus courtyard stands the “Tree of Knowledge,” a copper and bronze sculpture created by artist Satoru Abe. The artwork was dedicated 50 years ago, in 1971, a year before the school moved to its current location.

Each year during graduation, it is a tradition for graduates to honor their time at NHIS by placing leis on the sculpture. It’s also a great spot for a group shot of the 2021 PVT college scholarship recipients.

Robotics teacher is new National Honor Society adviser

You may know Nānākuli High School teacher Richard Enright as the teacher and mentor behind the school’s successful robotics program. But soon he’ll be wearing one more hat. Richard is the new adviser to the school’s National Honor Society (NHS) chapter.

The NHS is dedicated to engaging students in the pursuit of scholarship, leadership, and service to the community. Congratulations, Richard.
